

Spring in Santorini

We are already in Springtime.

It is the only chance during the year to see the island in green tints. In contradiction to the black rocks and white houses, green grass covers every ground.

Vines are growing up, little yellow flowers are everywhere and the sun is brightly shining to remind us that we are in the middle of the Aegean Sea.

Multi-coloured clouds decorate sunrises and the sunsets and fresh winds are coming from all over the Aegean Sea.

Santorini gets ready to meet the Orthodox Easter and the Summer.
